

JUST BEAR WITH ME A LITTLE LONGER, MY BRIDE

June 7th 2015 - Message from Jesus for His waiting Bride

My Bride, my precious Bride. I know you grow weary waiting for My coming to retrieve you. I know the journey is tiring, but do not grow weary in pleasing and loving and following your God. I love you, My precious Bride. The days seem bleak and the times are dark. But I am here and I am coming for you. Bear in this world just a little bit longer. Very soon I am coming to retrieve you unto Me and bring you to My heavenlies. We will commune and enjoy each other for the rest of eternity.

My Bride, My love, My Wife, continue giving My Light to this dark world. Continue spreading My love to the lost. Very soon you will be with Me and we will rejoice together in unity and it will be a day of great happiness. Chaos will fill the Earth and sorrow will overtake the people, but you My precious Bride, will be safe from the terror and the wrath that is to come.

So come into my arms, My beautiful Bride. I long to cradle you in my arms and sing to you and tell you of My love for you. I long to caress your cheeks and kiss your head. Oh Beloved, don't grow weary. Don't be tired. I am coming for you and we will rejoice together on that great day. Come into the intimate place with Me.

My True Bride. My Beloved Bride. My chosen children. Come into the intimate place with Me, your Husband. I will refresh you and give you peace and know, My Bride, that you will be home soon...

Just bear with me a little longer, My Bride.
