

Mission & Purpose of our Website www.jesus-comes.com

My dear brothers, sisters, dear friends and fellow men

This Message was written down on September 6th, 2016. 2 years have passed, since Jackie started translating the messages of "Trumpet Call". When she was finished with those, the Lord guided her to His Messages given to Clare, which she currently is still working on.

Every day she is sitting there, and translates for many hours. What was once only thought as a helping hand for our loved ones is now being 'consumed' by thousands of people. Everyday, we have up to 1500 visits on our 4 blogs: "jesus-comes", "awakeningforreality", "Heaventalk", and also "hess-thailand". Our Rhema-page is being consulted about 300 times during 24 hours and our 1625 youtube-videos have been watched well over 2.5 million times.

A few weeks ago our translation-wave started to expand into many different languages. French, Italian, Russian, Spanish, Portuguese, Chinese, Swahili, Croatian, Turkish... it's reaching enormous dimensions. When we consider, that behind each language is an entire culture, which very often hasn't even heard of Jesus Christ, and that delivering the Lords messages to them could mean their soul's salvation, this thought really takes our breath away.

We testify, that we were not looking for this task. That is truly the Lord's guidance. When we look back on our lives, we can clearly and undeniably see the preparation for this 'mission'. Yes, I think, I have to put it this way. While Jackie has gotten enormous training boosts in language and web-technology skills, I had to disconnect myself from my normal working life and practice IT-technology on my own because of a near burnout. While doing so, I learned a lot about servers, websites, network-technology, communication, programming etc. All of that was necessary to be able to carry out our current task.

One of the most difficult things to grasp was the realization, that Jesus Christ is universal and does not only operate in my own church. Jackie didn't have such a problem with recognizing the Lord. It was more difficult for me. As a minister of a small congregation I noticed, that proclaiming His word, which was inspired by Gods Spirit, truly was a beneficial task, but the ceremony, the representing of an official hierarchy and the dealing with finances (which, from a human and legal point of view was absolutely clean) does not reflect the Will of the Lord. The realization that the Lord expresses Himself through The Letters (Trumpet Call of God), that Jackie was translating at that time, demanded furthermore a lot from me.

After a short time of searching for weak points and errors, Jesus led me to Jacob Lorber. I started to read, and scale after scale dropped from my eyes - wow! I was electrified, because all my open questions had been answered with one blow. It followed a difficult decision: I had to inform my brothers and sisters of the the congregation about my new awareness and subsequently I had to leave them; well, that was pretty hard. What was also pretty hard, was the fact, that after I had left the church, almost nobody was interested in the thoughts, which led to my decision. Family and friends could also not accept the letters and scriptures. After all, everything they apparently need, they receive in the church, while I fell for the tricks of the antichrist...

Alright, lets quit the complaining - it's useless. Lets look at the scriptures, which the Lord has provided for us and are published as a collection on our websites. Now, let's first get one thing straight: These are NOT our thoughts, these are NOT our teachings, these are NOT fundamentals for a new denomination, and these are NOT entrapments of the antichrist. You'll find historic things, the reprocessing and disclosure of the creation conveyed by The Lord Himself. They relate to the first human beings, the prophets, to the life and ministry of Jesus Himself, the fulfillment of the prophecies, the outpouring of His Spirit and its teachings, many wake-up calls and even a "Live-Ticker"... The Lord's Messages to Clare.

The entire flood of the scriptures appear more and more as a complex whole. Every "new" discovered, studied and eventually published revelation makes the puzzle more complete. Not a single scripture will be put on the website, without studying and discerning it first. The Lord can be recognized in each one of them. It is irrelevant, if this does not fit into everyone's thought pattern. Each scripture came - and will come - at the right moment. For example: On August 2nd, 2016, I received a hint regarding "The Third Testament", and six days later, the Lord tells Clare, that we have 3 more years, as long as the prayers of mercy continue to flourish. I have enough to do, and God knows that. I wasn't really on the search for new reading material, but this document truly swept me out of my imaginary socks (imaginary, because I have not been wearing socks for a few years now). Even though I'm unfamiliar with many facets of this scripture, I immediately recognized the Lord in it - "My sheep hear My Voice, and I know them and they follow Me..." (John 10:27). JESUS CHRIST WANTS TO TEACH AND PREPARE US FOR A DARK TIME FIRST, BUT AFTER THAT FOR AN EVEN BRIGHTER FUTURE.

Please, let me share some thoughts with you, regarding this unfamiliar phrasing.

First, let's ask ourselves a general question, whereby something seems pleasant and trustworthy or repulsive and dangerous to us (Don't worry, I'm not conducting a psychological experiment here. I couldn't do that anyway). These are the reactions of our mind, which bring forth pictures, experiences and thoughts from our past, with each new experience we have, in order to protect us. Upbringing, learned things, acquired knowledge and adopted habits prevent, that we dive into new, and possibly bad things without thinking first. Sometimes, that is very good and appropriate, however, it can be obstructive. But are we aware of the quality of our inner pictures? How often did we have to admit to ourselves already, that our old perceptions did not correspond with the actual facts. Many thought patterns are collapsing like a house of cards through new and evident revelations. This happens, because experiences are built upon one another.

What do we think, when the Lord says, that our religious sensations are the result of century-old deceptions? That can't be true, right? But it is... Now, don't just throw everything away, my loved ones - and please, it's not about condemning the devout people, who are filled with the love of Jesus - its about the established "beliefs and convictions". Now, lets analyze the origin of our pseudo knowledge from a different perspective:

1. Where does the religious knowledge originate, which we consider to be our wisdom? From our Church, our denomination, our investigations and from discussions and sermons.
2. Where does the wisdom originate, which the churches convey? It comes from the scriptures and the teachings, which have been passed down, written and spoken. Every denomination has generally valid and accepted recordings and dogmas, as well as their own interpretation.
3. Where do all those denominations come from; what are their roots? It's the catholic church, (the mother church and their daughters) and the reason for the splitting are the different interpretations of the doctrine of Christ. However, many interpretations have found their way into newer denominations, because they are considered to be true.
4. Where does the catholic church come from? From the faith of the early christians. Stop, let's go back here. When did the christian church become the state religion? 330 years after Christ. That's a long time. What happened to many christians of the first age? Oh yeah - they were slaughtered.

Executed, fed to the lions, persecuted and hounded, banished, and where is the knowledge of the early christians now? It is said, that Peter established the catholic church, but Peter never went to Rome, instead, he was murdered in nowadays Iraq by fanatics of other beliefs, but Rome claimed, even 330 years after Christ, that Peter was the founder of the new religion. The alleged tomb of Peter is displayed in all its glory. Ironic, isn't it?

5. What is the foundation of the catholic church? Business sense, political profiteering. The christian doctrine has spread, despite the persecutions and massacres, because the love of Jesus Christ gave the people with an open heart so much good and uplifting as well as confidence and hope. And this was the motto of Rome: If it cannot be eliminated, let's make them subservient. No sooner said than done. But until that time, the Roman Empire was full of temples of Jupiter, Juno, Neptune, Mars, etc. Hosts of temple servants, priests right up to the Pontifex Maximus were practically "employees" of the gods. Now, the ground staff was there. Alright, just a little retraining and then lets move on. Admitted, the process was certainly harder, but taking the scriptures of former proponents of the christian doctrine as well as the knowledge of some remaining people helped to mount this new religion.

Sobering times followed. Times in which the lack of knowledge and the gaps in our understanding as well as the lack of fresh 'inputs from above' became much clearer. The "councils" were convened, and their resolutions can even be looked up today. Incomprehensible things were either classified as preposterous and banned from the doctrine, or received a more plausible definition for materialistic thinking people. Among the first group for example is the knowledge regarding the incarnation, among the second group is the "Trinity".

The Book of the Books contains a selection of scriptures, which was carried out by the catholic church, because they were complying with the emerging doctrine. The rest is waiting in the archives ... Paul's Letter to the assembly of Laodicea is a striking evidence for these practices. Whatever else was done with the writings and their content, only God knows.

The "Letter to the Laodiceans" contains passages such as the forgoing of the construction of churches, chapels & temples, the urgent exhortation to abolish a clergy, to abolish decorated clothing and the ceremonial presentation of the Eucharist. Honestly, friends - what do we still see today?

We can read the following statement in The Third Testament (TTT Chapter 28:33):

"But the confusion of which I'm talking to you about, will come, because those, who interpreted those revelations, have forced their interpretations on people, and these were partially true and partially false. It will also happen, because that spiritual light of My Teaching has been withheld from the people and sometimes it was given in a distorted form. Therefore today, since the time has come, where My Light frees you from the darkness of your ignorance, many people have negated, that this could be the Light of Truth, because it does not correspond with what I have taught you before - according to their own opinion."

Lets look at the interpretations of a few bible passages; especially those, which we constantly receive in regard to the published scriptures on our websites.

But first, allow me to ask the question, what the text in Revelation 22:18 and 19 really means and to whom it applies: "18 For I testify unto every one hearing the words of the prophecy of this book, if any one adds to them, God shall add to him the plagues that are written in this book. 19 And if any one takes away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part from the book of life, and out of the holy city, which are written in this book."

Do you think the same as I do, what is meant by this human intervention, these changes, omissions or even additions? Do you think, that I could possibly be right, when I say, that this can hardly be applied to the Creator Himself? I very much hope so - because Jesus also said in John 16:12-15...

"12 I have yet much to say to you, but you cannot bear to hear it now. 13 But when He comes, the Spirit of Truth, He shall guide you into all Truth. For He shall not speak from Himself; but whatsoever He hears, He shall speak, and He shall announce to you what is to come. 14 He shall esteem Me, for He shall take from what is Mine and announce it to you. 15 All that the Father has is Mine. That is, why I said, that He takes from what is Mine and announces it to you."

And this is exactly, what is happening now and the whole time already. While the churches and denominations discuss about the interpretation of particular words, the Divine Wisdom flows as a silent, unstoppable river for the instruction and edification of mankind, revealed by plain, ready to serve and willing vessels, who feed those souls, which are hungry for the genuine and directly imparted Truth by The Creator Himself.

Now, lets talk about the falsely interpreted texts in scripture, which are used against the new Revelations.

Galatians 1:6 and the following verses:

"6 I marvel that you are so readily turning away from Him, who called you in the favor of the Messiah to another Gospel. 7 Which is not another; only there are some who are troubling you, and wanting to corrupt the gospel of the Messiah. 8 However, even if we, or a messenger from heaven, bring a gospel to you beside what we announced to you, let him be accursed. 9 As we have said before, now I say again, if anyone brings a gospel to you beside what we have announced to you, let him be accursed."

Paul wrote this to the Galatians. Why? Because it was important for the Galatians as well as for the Laodiceans, that they preserve the pure Teaching of Jesus Christ for the future. If someone tells or writes this to me today, regarding the new revelations, I must state here, that the distortion has happened already a long time ago, and this passage is now being applied by people AGAINST the attempts of the Lord to save us from the mud of our old, distorted beliefs - I know, this sounds schizophrenic and it's sad too...

With this knowledge, the following verse seems to be applied totally amiss:

2 Thessalonias 2:15 "So then, brothers, stand fast, and hold the traditions which you were taught, whether by word, or by our letter." It would be interesting to know, what the preacher had presented as "Teaching" there. Maybe the Teaching of Jesus? Yes, correct! And here it is again - Rejoice and let deeds follow - and do not again demonize 'the Lord's Teaching'.

The red rag - 'Mother Mary'. Why is the topic 'Mary' such a battleground? Because of the catholic church. Mary, the Mother of Jesus Christ, was a shining example of humility and care. Is that wrong, bad or misleading? Come back to earth. It is the CULT, that exudes this disgusting smell. The ancient pagan priests NEEDED their idols, statues, relics, shrines, palaces, costumes - without those, their world would have collapsed. But the way, the revelations of Jesus through Jacob Lorber and now the writings of the Third Testament represent Mary, it is very simply that Spirit of Mary, which we must take as an example, considering her maternal and loving characteristics, how we should treat our brothers and sisters. And please, don't go and buy some figurine now - that's not, what the Lord wants!

Then, the next unbelievable statemend followed: The scriptures are esoteric...

That's simply nonsense - Esotericism means "being part of the inner circle", secret and separated, not for everybody... this term is completely inappropriate, because it can be read in The third Testament, that nothing from this scripture is withheld from anyone, just as nobody is preferred. Every human being can be sure, that God will help and guide, because The Lord does not look at the person.

And now the final touch: "This is our - Jackies and my teaching". Oh, come on! Only a jealous spirit can utter something like that. I would be more than happy to send everybody a manual on how to create your own blog - it's not complicated. Do whatever you perceive as right and good in your own opinion, but stop to spread this calumny - God knows about our efforts of objectivity and to refrain from 'our own wisdom' (opinions).

Now, lets get back to the term "thought pattern". As you know, Clare already had to prepare many messages regarding demons - are these our fallen brothers and sisters, which use all sorts of tricks to hand down their passions? A brilliant tactic, to preallocate the Truth and the connected pictures and expressions with an 'enemy image'! I'll proof it to you.

Reincarnation - incarnation - Mary - inspiration - spiritualization - inner vision - the spiritual eye - communication from spirit to spirit (telepathy) - universal sense - eternally living spirit - self-discovery - self-awareness - ...and? Are you feeling a slight nausea in your stomach already? You ain't lookin' good!

What are these terms intertwined with? Hocus pocus, charlatans, wizards, self proclaimed prophets, healer, lunatics, boastful chatterers, deceiver, antichrist, visionaries, enthusiasts, idiots...

Brothers and Sisters - isn't this absolutely GENIUS? The adversary, that spirit of the evil one is absolutely GENIUS - and deadly... Without the leadings of Jesus we're lost - hopelessly sawn off, put into a coffin and thrown into a pit. Dear friends, please wake up - it's all a question of having an open spirit. The question is: Am I willing to look objectively at my real environment? Let me conclude with this example...

Who knows this mountain?

Nobody - or almost nobody? It's the MATTERHORN - One of the most well known mountains on earth!

Oh, wait - please excuse me - I showed you its back. It's the same mountain, but from Italy's perspective, there they call it the "Cervinio", and it looks completely different, but it is the same mountain!

Different name, different appearance - it's all about perspective.

Look! "Fill the earth and subdue it!" (Genesis 1:28); the extension "...but the researching, I do not allow." can nowhere be read, but rather the pure opposite is the case, 1. Thessalonians 5:19-22: "Do not quench the Spirit. Do not despise prophecy, prove them all. Hold fast, what is good. Keep back from every form of wickedness."

I don't want to step on anybodys toes, but rather I try, with God's Help, to alleviate blindness or to raise the blindfold a little bit.

May God, Jesus Jehovah Lord of Hosts bless us all.

AMEN - AMEN - AMEN!
