

Jesus speaks about the best of the worst Candidates & Protection through Obedience

October 22nd, 2016 - Words from Jesus to Sister Clare
Spoken by Jackie

Clare began...

May the Peace of Jesus, that passes all understanding be with us all.

I want to begin by saying that obedience is still absolutely vital to escaping the enemy's snares. Obedience is one of the virtues that protect us.

What is so insane about these spiritual attacks is the enemy can't win. I just don't understand why they don't get it? The more we suffer, the stronger we get, the more conversions that take place, the more their tactics are exposed to more people. It just doesn't make sense to me - except that they are somehow rewarded for causing pain, even if in the end they've cut off their nose to spite their own face.

When we suffer, we are in a sense making spiritual fertilizer. We are feeding the seeds of conversion that have been sown. As the early church father said, "The blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church."

There is a white martyrdom, where blood doesn't flow but suffering abounds. And all of us are now being called upon to offer ourselves in the full knowledge that it will not be pretty or easy.

We were given a vision of those who stayed behind on the lower levels of the mountain. They were not going through the difficulties we had. They were in a measure more happy, more comfortable but still fell under attack. Others had begun the climb, but stopped halfway up. And a few were with Jesus who was still climbing. They were joined to Him in a very special way. It was as though they were infused and one with Him. They were moving forward as a unit and enjoying great camaraderie and intimacy in His Presence and their protection was very strong.

So, don't be surprised if the Christians you know love the Lord most intensely come under serious, serious illness or difficulties. Because, they love the Lord so much and they've given themselves totally to Him. He is allowing these things, even though they may be totally unaware of what the Lord is doing with their illness - it's still taking place, He is still receiving a sacrificial offering from them. And someday they'll see that. Because right now the way America goes is the way the world is going to go.

So, this season of our Christian lives only makes sense if we consider the stakes, that Jesus is using every little suffering to get this man in office, to turn the nation and even the world. And you and I both know how bad it looks for Donald Trump to get into office. The enemy has done his best to smear this man, and that alone tells us he's not on their team.

Unfortunately, Donald has done some shameful things in the past and that gives weight to their arguments. But I was stunned when Hilary Clinton said something after the final debate to this effect, "Well, it was good. They got to see how he acts on stage, and that's all that matters." That is not a perfect quote but the essence of it stunned me. How you act in public, on stage, is all that matters? Policy doesn't matter? Corruption doesn't matter? The abysmal state of our nation doesn't matter?

And there you have it. The essence of their agenda when she said, "You saw how he acted on 'stage'." That word in itself is a give away...it's a stage...a play being acted out while the guts are kept hidden from the public. Put up a good front and that's all that matters?

My personal opinion... at least the man doesn't mind offending people. Even as the Scriptures say, "Have nothing to do with the fruitless deeds of darkness, but rather expose them. It is shameful even to mention what the disobedient do in secret. But everything exposed by the light becomes visible." Ephesians 5:11-13

Boy, we've seen that this last few weeks.

Surely our personal lives should be without reproach, but what politician can you say has a spotless reputation? The Lord knows who will repent and who will not. And America is not looking for a virgin, but a man that can restore the basic rights to this country and halt the enemy from completely destroying our nation. And he has chosen this man, in spite of his arrogance and unseemly behavior. The only difference between the two candidates is that we see all the mess in his life, but the mess in hers is still covered up. Even when it's obvious and publicized.

The Lord began... "I want to return to the heart of this message. Please, consider, it is not going to be easy. But if you choose to continue to scale the mountain of holiness, I will be with you. I will carry you and I will save you and you will experience Me in ways you never thought possible."

"If I had to wait for someone who was morally clean to do this job, as the President of the United States, it would never get done. Look at David, the greatest king My people ever had, and even he committed adultery with Bathsheba. And to cover it, had her husband murdered."

"Let's just say, I have chosen the best of the worst...because I know his heart and I know his end. He will do a good job. The others are deceivers of the worst kind bent on destroying you and the Earth."

"So, it is up to you, My People, to discern these words. Clare knows nothing about politics, even by her own admission, she has been instructed by Me and holds no other opinion than My own."

"Yes, well this time it does matter and that's why I'm calling My people to stand by My choice, the best of the worst candidates. I'm not here to argue with anyone. I have seen your locker room thoughts and even talk - I've seen more than that, in fact. And there is not one man who can stand before Me and say... 'I am without sin, Lord.'" Not even one."

"But returning to your sacrifices... the Bride must resemble the Groom. This suffering is preparation for your coronation. You indeed will resemble Me when I come for you. I will infuse you with My strength, if only you will ask. I will carry you when you can no longer carry on, if you will ask. I will restore your faith when doubt has a stranglehold on you, if you only ask."

"I will give you endurance to finish this race, loving Me and My people more than you ever have, only just ask. All these things I will do for you and more, My People, much, much more. But you need to decide. In this moment, you cannot see what is coming in the future, but I can. Will you trust Me?"

"My last words to you... it will be hard, but I will be with you all the way."
