

JESUS SPEAKS... 'PRESIDENT TRUMP ELECTED' - You have made a WISE Choice

November 9th, 2016 - Words from Jesus to Sister Clare

The Lord has done it again. Against all the odds and oppositions He has managed to put His man into the office as President of the United States, and He began speaking tonight by saying...

"My mercy for this country will be felt tonight. The prayers of My servants have been heard, for they have humbled themselves and sought Me. Shall I not grant them the respite they so desire? Yet, there is cause for concern. Do not imagine that every man will perfectly follow My Will, but this man I have anointed, for better and for worse, yet the challenges he is facing in the coming months are beyond human comprehension, but I comprehend them, and he is open in his mind to listen to My Wisdom, though He rarely recognizes that it is Me talking to him."

"Nonetheless, he is anointed because his heart is right, no matter that He is blustery and proud. He is shrewder than what appears on the surface. As long as that submits to My Wisdom, it's a good kind of shrewd. He will be a world leader that everyone respects. Whether they like him or not, they will respect him. He will set some major issues in America back on the right track, but Clare, this is the world, and what can be expected? Nonetheless, he will do a good job with what is ahead of him. How can 60 years of corruption at the highest level be righted over night? Only by My coming can that happen, but for now, America has another chance to drop its compulsions with materialism, and begin to take responsibility for the policies of this nation."

"People have been led around by a golden ring in their noses, enjoying the fad of the land. This, in turn, produced a blind generation, all taken up in material comforts and education, thoughtless about the true nature of those they elected. Nonetheless, I am with this man, and I will reorder things through him. This nation has made a wise choice, and now, I can work with it."

And I asked him at that point... 'But Lord, how will he escape assassination? That seems impossible to me.'

The Lord replied... "With God."

And I finished the sentence... 'Nothing is impossible! Lord, how will this happen?'

"Clare, I have given My angels watch over him. Nothing escapes their notice. Your job is to lift him up over the altar every day. Mine is to protect him and his family. I have chosen him. I will not abandon him to the will of his enemies, as long as you continue to pray for him. There will be new hurdles, but together we will overcome them, one by one. Whatever your thoughts about this man are, those who call themselves by My name, he is now your president and has the authority over your country. Pray for him. He will do well. Grow lax and he will be replaced by a dictator. Do not grow lax. Strengthen him with your prayers and fast offerings when called for. This is a new day for America. Be faithful to pray, and I will be faithful to guide and protect him and his family."

All glory, honor and praise to You Lord Jesus. What wonderful thing You have done for this country today. Thank You Lord, thank You so very much, for You indeed have done great things. And thanks to all of you heartdwellers. You who've really applied your hearts, tears and prayers to make this possible.
