

Come, don't be afraid to tell Me the Truth about yourself

October 6, 2025 - Words from Jesus & Sister Clare

(Clare) May the sweetness of Jesus lodge deep within our soul and bring us peace... Amen. Jesus said "Stay with Me" after I received communion this evening. And I replied... I'm here, Lord.

(Jesus) "Finally at last we can spend some time together."

(Clare) Lord, if you can keep the interruptions out.

(Jesus) "I need your commitment."

(Clare) I commit.

(Jesus) "I have longed for this time with you, beloved."

(Clare) Me too, Jesus.

(Jesus) "Good. Then here we are together at last."

(Clare) And I wanna say I share this with you because this is how He feels about all of us. He longs for time with us and we are His beloved. The whole reason I put these messages out is to show you how approachable He is. He will speak to you. He loves you so dearly, but we all walk around with so much guilt and condemnation. We think that He doesn't want to be with us.

Well, nothing could be further from the truth. That's the enemy. His whole job is to separate us from God, period. I got hit with hunger and sleepiness, and I know it's the enemy. Demons are trying to make me sleepy and get distracted with food, but I didn't let them do it this time. And the Lord continued...

(Jesus) "Bear through this with Me.

(Clare) Thank you for loving me and wanting to be with me, Lord. He replied in such a gentle tone...

(Jesus) "It is My pleasure, although you don't believe it with certainty. I am glad you will listen to Brennan Manning, by the way. He is very much a Heartdweller. I think listening to him will refresh your charism. You are in need of refreshing, are you not?"

(Clare) Yes, Lord, absolutely. I feel so battle-worn and weary, and confidence is a little bit low. What should I do?

(Jesus) "That's easy, spend more quiet time with Me."

(Clare) Lord, but I do get caught up with distractions, and even now I'm struggling to keep my eyes open.

(Jesus) "And that will pass."

(Clare) It's so good to hear you say that, Jesus.

(Jesus) "It's so good that you are hearing Me, beloved."

(Clare) Lord, I don't understand how we can have contradictory subjects going at the same time with a message. Repentance and the Father's love?

(Jesus) "What was the first grace I gave you on the night of May 5th?"

(Clare) By the way, that was the night fire came down from heaven and I met the Holy Spirit who took up residence in my heart and belly. Lord, the very first grace You gave me on the night of my conversion was searing conviction of all my sins.

(Jesus) "That's correct. Beloved, with all the sludge of sin lining your heart and mind, I could not pour in the new wine. First, the vessel must be burned out and sanitized. I was delicate with you. You were like a Dresden tea cup, very, very delicate. It was beautiful how you responded. Tears of joy, and the recognition of your sins. I was so happy with you that night when all My dreams for you began to come true."

(Clare) Oh Lord, You filled me with such love, and I still had a long, long way to go. There was so much corruption in me.

(Jesus) "Yes, but you saw it and kept seeing it, and I can work with that. It is the souls who refuse to look at their actions and recognize their sinfulness that make it hard for Me.

"Beloved ones, please don't ever refuse to confront your sins. Never run from the truth. I come to clean you out and prepare you for heavenly graces, and when you try to cover up your sins, hiding them and are unwilling to expose them, I cannot grant you the graces so necessary to your destiny.

"Some learn as little children to hide their sins because they are afraid they will be beaten and rejected. Others will be disappointed with them and they will lose the love and affection they so long for. So, they sit silently while others are ready to confess and open their hearts and minds to correction. This is tragic for Me because I want so badly to give them heavenly graces, but until they are honest about what they have done, who they are and who they are not, I cannot. So, I give these graces to others, who have learned to be humble and confess their failings.

"Please, My little ones, please, never be afraid of seeing and telling the truth about yourself. I love you so tenderly, it will never change My love for you. Never. When you have matured and are ready to openly take responsibility for your faults, I can begin in earnest to prepare you for the next level of graces.

"But until that happens, you are not ready for the gifts that can only be safe in a soul of utmost humility and integrity, because those gifts would be used to destroy you. It takes great courage and moral strength to be open and welcome correction. This sets a pattern for growth and advancement that you are willing to be teachable and conquer yourself.

"This is what I love to see in My bride. I encourage you to listen to Brennan Manning, the Franciscan priest who struggled with alcoholism and the way he exposed his weakness to the world. He is a man endowed with great love and understanding."

(Clare) His famous word from the Lord sums it up... "I love you the way you are, not the way you think you should be." I had nothing to offer the Lord in my 33rd year when He visited me. I thought I had to be holy, but no. He drew me into His arms as the sin-stained, wounded and broken soul I was. Then He revealed His overwhelming love for me, and I was never the same after that.

His love is tender, like a downy feather floating in the breeze from a nest of doves. His love is all-consuming, like getting caught in the undertow of the ocean. His joy tugs you away from your dark past into the ecstasy of heavenly realms. His love sweeps away all doubt, all fear, all hatred and anxiety.

When He has touched you and made His intentions clear, your heart is left speechless and you know beyond the shadow of a doubt that He is in love with you and will never ever abandon you.

When He speaks with me, there's no air of condescension, rather His voice is calm, steady, and reassuring. He knows why my heart is troubled and has already provided the remedy.

When evil lurks, He secures me in His arms and shields me with His words of protection. You know beyond the shadow of a doubt that He will protect you from demons, big foot, cougars, and every form of pernicious evil.

His name is a strong tower, the danger cannot scale, but lifts you out of harm's way effortlessly. There is no one like our God who made us and loves the work of His hands. There is no evil too dark, no crime too violent, no deeds so vile that He cannot find it in His mercy to forgive us.

All He wants is to forgive you, make it right with you, heal your brokenness, equip you with skills you've always dreamt of having with the support you need to realize your dreams and that's so true.

He did that with art and music with me. I always wanted to do artwork and express things through art but I just couldn't get beyond stick drawings and then after that May 5th, all of a sudden I knew how to paint and how to draw. It was a gift that was just given to me almost immediately.

And then He gave me the gift of music. I was overwhelmed, just overwhelmed with the way He set my life up. He took away photography, which was a challenge for me - but it could cause me to get prideful and He gave me music instead, which is a wonderful gift, but I really have to struggle sometimes to be able to do it, but that keeps me humble.

He is not like anyone we've ever known. He is God, omnipotent, glorious, faithful, and true. The best friend we could ever have. He is able to provide for our every necessity. Heat in the winter, water in the drought, sunshine for the garden, healing for our loved ones, and increase for our sheep and cattle.

All that He asks is that we live by His rules, that in the end will bring us the greatest happiness and lead us into eternal life. Before I was saved, I made a mess out of my life. And at age 33, it needed severe reworking. It was a mess. That night He came down from heaven and inhabited me. Everything changed. I was given inspiration and skills and direction that brought me so much joy. And I was given a good husband.

He's so faithful, dear ones. Don't be afraid to come to Him and to confess your faults to Him. And remember what Brennan Manning said... "He loves you the way you are, not the way you think you should be." Remember that and do not let self-condemnation take the joy out of your life, forge ahead knowing that He truly loves you.
