

I want your whole Heart... I am waiting for you!

February 17, 2015 - Message from Jesus thru Sister Clare

(Clare) God bless you, dear family. We picked up the Chronicles of the Bride today to get a reading and it opened to the message I will share below. We trust the Holy Spirit to pick our readings for us. He did it and brought up something else that would be very helpful to us in our desire to hear the Lord clearly.

I had two people report back to me that the Binding Prayer has worked for them immediately. One of those people had a tremendous battle hearing and seeing the Lord, but he had a breakthrough immediately. If this is given by the Holy Spirit, then He knows what He's doing. He knows what the devils are up to.

When I came into worship today, I saw a devil in the corner and he was fuming mad. It was a large, nasty looking devil, like a miniature Satan with a large head. He was so angry with me. I had barely got the name of Jesus out of my mouth and he was gone. So, somebody is upset about that and that's good. So here I share the reading we got today from the Chronicles of the Bride...

(Jesus) "Trust Me, Child. I want to speak familiarly with you. It is a good and wise thing to test the spirits. However, after so much time in a known relationship it is important to move forward and be natural - that you may enjoy the consolation of friendship in a comfortable way. This is the way I want to be with you. This is the way I want to be with all of My children. Yet, so many are busy with other things. The cares of this world and their allurements soon build a wall of interference, through which I can only communicate with them in certain circumstances, and only in distant ways.

"Many say I speak to them in and through My written Word. Just as with so many other things, I brought the Scriptures forth for their edification and good, but also for their hardness of hearts. I knew that men were weak and easily pulled away by their wandering minds and flesh. I could speak familiarly with My servant Moses, as one man speaks to another. But the rest had to hear Me from the spoken Word in My inspired writings.

"So, the question is, what would you prefer? To have a guest you spoke to only as through a curtain? Or to have a guest you could see and hear and converse easily with? I have placed no barrier between Me and My disciples, but they regularly keep a wall between us. I love and cherish them with all My heart and I wish that all would come to know Me intimately.

"Pray for this grace, but know that it comes at a cost. Are you truly willing to change your lifestyles to accommodate that kind of closeness with Me? It will surely mean a serious change for most. Are you willing to put away all of the distractions in your life and make room for Me exclusively? Can you make the sacrifice of many things like friends, books, entertainment, and so on?"

(Clare) I want to say that that has been a struggle for me. I think one of the things that brought me to my senses was the understanding about the Rapture. Before I really knew that the rapture was the real deal, I think I was a little sloppy. When I found out the rapture was real, I looked very seriously at what I was spending my time on. I came under heavy conviction when I went off to go shopping 'for entertainment' so to speak. Like when I would go to look at something just to get my mind off problems. I put that stuff away totally. Instead of doing it maybe once a year, I just put it totally away. I don't do it at all now. There is a cost and it is challenging, but it is so rewarding. He continued...

(Jesus) "I'm here for every soul I create. I never change nor do I sleep or rest. I am constantly looking at you, waiting for you, yearning and longing to spend time with you, and speak My heart to you. You have only to gird up your courage and try. I will most assuredly meet your efforts if they are coming from the heart, with no preconceived opinions of your own.

"Give to Me your whole will and intellect. Ask to be made like a little child again. Peacefully wait for Me and be patient, and I will visit you in ways you never imagined. Only make room for Me. I want your whole heart. Your strong and earnest desire and pursuit of Me and Me alone. I will give you the abundant grace, but you, will you avail yourself to it?"
